NEFES 2019

The 4th International Conference on New Energy and Future Energy Systems (NEFES 2019) will be held in Macao, China from Jul. 21st-24th, 2019. It dedicates to promote scientific interchange among researchers, developers, engineers, students, and practitioners all around the world. We gathered to share our latest achievements and discuss the possible challenges in terms of new energy and future energy system.

The plenary session of NEFES 2019 will include Keynote Speeches, Invited Speeches, Oral Presentations and Poster Presentations. On behalf of the organizing committee, we cordially invite scientists, scholars as well as entrepreneurs to participate in the conference.

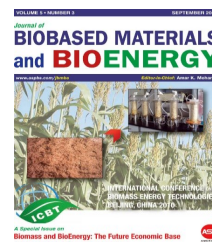

The Macao Special Administrative Region, part of the territory of China, is situated at the Pearl River Delta on the southeast coast of Mainland China, 60 km southwest of Hong Kong. Historical sites fill the region and make it a "sleepy land." Glitzy Casinos, unspoiled beaches, and top-class restaurants, Macao is a glorious slice of the Mediterranean tucked away on the South China Sea.
